The Kingmakers Brunch: Breaking the Cycle is a transformative gathering designed to help individuals and families confront the roots of generational patterns and step into healing. Taking place on March 28th, 2026, from 11:00AM – 2:00PM, this powerful event will be held at North Davison United Methodist Fellowship Hall, 1025 E. 36th Street, Charlotte, NC. Centered on faith, restoration, and personal growth, this brunch will create a safe and empowering space for meaningful dialogue and reflection.

This year's theme, "Breaking the Cycle," focuses on recognizing childhood trauma, understanding its long-term impact, and beginning the process of reparenting your inner child. Through guided discussion, practical teaching, and spiritual encouragement, participants will explore how unhealed wounds can shape behavior, relationships, and parenting styles — and more importantly, how those cycles can be intentionally disrupted. The goal is to equip attendees with tools that foster emotional health, spiritual maturity, and generational transformation.

Guests will experience a blend of teaching, fellowship, and interactive engagement while enjoying a welcoming brunch atmosphere. The event is designed not only to inform but to empower individuals to take ownership of their healing journey. By addressing trauma through both practical insight and biblical truth, the Kingmakers Ministry seeks to help families cultivate healthier patterns rooted in awareness, accountability, and faith.

The Kingmakers Brunch is more than an event — it is a call to action. It is an invitation to do the inner work necessary to raise whole, confident, and purpose-driven leaders.
